

IAEI Granite State Chapter Presents

Photovoltaic & Energy Storage Systems

Training for the present and the future

IAEI is a leader in providing quality technical and safety training to the electrical industry. We at The Granite State Chapter strive to live up to this standard and we believe we have with this event. We have enlisted the help of our friends from Cadmus Group to provide the quality educational experience expected from IAEI. Matt Piantedosi and his associates will present two programs based on the 2017 NEC. The first will be focused on the booming PV industry and the second will be on the up and coming technology of Energy Storage Systems. Time will be allowed for Q&A at the end of each presentation. This is a can't miss training and networking opportunity for both Inspectors and installers.
